Anne Roos Joins International Song Project

In 2007, Anne Roos was contacted by UK songwriter Paul Weston to join the "We Are the Future" international song project. The goal of this global endeavor is to bring a peaceful world to work towards a balanced social and economic equality.

Musicians are invited to record music designed for this project. The music is then promoted worldwide in an effort to receive major backing to set up a foundation to raise money for children's charities internationally. Such talents as Willie Nelson and British vocalist David Habbin have contributed songs to this project.
